

RIBBONS AND STONE — Shallow waters, empty pool of dreams, drowning sorrow, it's callin' to me. Simple pleasures topped with warm extremes, never afters, leave it to me — Chance worth taking pulling on my strings, no time wasted I'm tearing at the seams — Fault worth proving, faulty listening, it's not as fun to look before I leap — We go together like Ribbons and Stone — Holding tightly to the weakest link, I find its better safe than sorry — More for giving, offer to the king, forgive me for wanting to believe — It's never too late, more haste less speed, time is money, use me as you please — I may be crazy, a slight insanity, but chances taken are better than to leave — We go together like Ribbons and Stone

FOR THE MOMENT — Try, Try to see the good within your questioning of life. Why, wipe away the tears that blur your self-conflicting eyes. — Break the chains from your own heart — It's inside of you, if you only try — Take a chance at life don't let it pass you by — You only live one moment in time — Don't let it, don't let it pass you by — Stay, Stay a little while to see what else you may become — Pray, Pray that you will find yourself in everything you love — Break the mold and let it flow — Live today, not tomorrow, life is waiting, it's all up to you!!!

M.I.A — Hello my dear I love you so — I miss you like a child misses snow upon the hottest part of June — It's been so long I wonder where you are — And hold our memories deep in my heart. It's all that I can do. They said you're here, they said you're there — I don't think they could even care to come out and just bear the naked truth. You may be gone but deep inside my heart you will always live on — My love for you will be forever true. I'm holding — I'm holding on — I'm holding on for you. Your favorite hat and your cologne still hold a presence in this home — A decade now and they remain unmoved — I gaze out of the old screen door as I recall the times before — I close my eyes imagine I'm with you. The emptiness it never fades, the void you left won't go away — Although you're gone I've never left you — I won't move on but I accept the time we had was so precious — Dear Billie love, my soul lingers for you — I'm holding — I'm holding on — I'm holding on for you — The marble laid, the name engraved, the stories brave, the memories made — I'm holding on for you GLORIOUS EXCESS — You swim in a sea of avidity — Your life is dripping in diamonds and gold — Your itchy palms lead you into a Glorious Excess — But, you're not living life true to your soul. Take away the popularity, all the unnecessary — Look at you now, what is left? A stigma of selfish greed when your soul enters eternity — So tell me now, what is left? Artificial Euphoria — From Glorious Excess — Superficial, you're not true to yourself — When life is over what is left? So you made the cover — Does it fill your heart with love? Tell me, does it really matter? So you made your first million — Does it buy your life more time? Tell me, does it matter? Artificial Euphoria — From Glorious Excess — Superficial, you're not true to yourself — When life is over, what is left?

AROUND THE WORLD — Play around the world — In ultra-high fidelity — Taking full advantage of every opportunity — Don't let it pass me by — It happens only once in a lifetime — I'll leave my legacy — I've never felt so free — PLAY AROUND THE WORLD — I never thought I'd see — The day in front of me — Living all my dreams

— I never thought It'd be — It's such a nice surprise — This way to live this life — I'll never let them take it away from me — Play around the world — Seeing many happy faces — Chasing all our dreams — Visiting exotic places — Leave the past behind — The never ending daily grind — I've got the master key — Everyone come join me — PLAY AROUND THE WORLD

BREAKOUT — Gotta go, gotta get away — Save this life for another day — I'm Running (Looking out for number one or your day will never come) Running Nowhere — Pack my bags headed out of town — Gonna go somewhere I can't be found — I'm Running (Don't look back if I were you or there's nothing you can do) Running Nowhere — Break out — Disappear from sight — Break out — We're out of time — Movin' on no reason here to stay — Starting over, come what may — I'm Running (Move so fast you can't be seen, like a finely oiled machine) Running Nowhere — Break out — Disappear from sight — Break out — We're out of time — Break out — We're out of time.

SPIRAL — Jody dreamed of a fairy tale ending — With a charming prince — Fell in love with her first adoration — And paid the consequence — Now she's left all alone — With a new life inside — Her hearts torn in two — And, she cries every night — A princess since the beginning — Fairest of them all — Jane adored attention and envy — Began to crave it more — Then tragedy struck — Left her scarred and deformed — Beauty hidden inside — They all stare at her now and she cries — Why? Spiral Down — Its not the ever after you were hoping for — Spiral Down — Better be careful what you wish for.

HEROES — He tells his story as if he's still standing there — Tells of his pain and his grief — He fought for each day, he fights through the nightmares — Praying for some sanity — He sacrificed his life for an entire nation — Yet he struggles alone in his thoughts. Memory replays the tragedy over — Reminds him of too many things — Feels like an alien in his own home — And he tries to pretend he's okay — But the face he sees is a constant reminder — He sought whatever will help ease the pain — Don't just sit back and watch him fall to pieces — Don't you see he's dying inside — Isn't there anyone out there to help him — If only we'd open their eyes — Its the least we can do — Heroes need Heroes too — Everyday that he lives is a new day surviving — A win against thoughts of just giving up — Searching for some way to join in the normal — A slight ease of pain by filling his cup — Don't just sit back and watch him fall to pieces — Don't you see he's dying inside — Isn't there anyone out there to help him — If only we'd open their eyes — Its the least we can do — Heroes need Heroes too.

MUST BE EVIL — Seems to me, I've come under your spell — Don't get me wrong, I'm in love with you as well — But can something this good be so right — It's taking over, over my mind — If life showers me with gold — Is it wrong to keep it for my own — I'm tempted by the way you make me feel — Yet nothing ever, ever felt so real — Magic touch or kiss of death — Poison or pleasure in excess — Heaven on earth, or — My path straight to hell — So good it must be evil — Seems to me, I've come under your spell — Well if it's evil then just take me straight to hell — Cause it's something that I would die to have — Come poison me, poison me, I'm tempted.

WORTH THE WAIT — May this kiss last you a while — And may this smile see you through — No one said it would be easy — But, it's worth the wait for you. Don't ever forget the way this feels — My heart will always be with you. And I know that some days will seem to pass too slowly But it's worth the wait for you. My heart will be right here 'til you come back to me — I would wait until all eternity — But, I know there be tears along the way — No doubt in my mind it'll be okay — 'cause our love is so strong and much too true — And it's worth the wait for you. May this kiss last you a while. And may this smile see you through — No one said it would be easy — But, it's worth the wait for you.
